Behaviour Policy

Date Reviewed	June 2026
Next Review Date	June 2027

Introduction

All staff share responsibility for providing a safe learning environment (KCSIE 2025). South Hetton Primary School expects high standards of conduct and promotes positive behaviour and attitudes through mutual respect across the school community. Our ethos and broad curriculum support pupils' personal development and their positive contribution to school life. Clear behaviour management systems, including rewards and sanctions, reinforce these values. All staff are expected to follow this policy consistently, working in partnership with parents to support children's best interests.

Our Behaviour Aims:

The school aims to provide a safe, happy, and inclusive environment where all pupils feel valued, have their needs met, and experience success. Positive behaviour is encouraged through clear expectations, consistent responses, and a range of age-appropriate rewards. Pupils are taught to reflect on their behaviour, develop self-control, and understand acceptable standards.

The school's ethos promotes strong teacher–pupil relationships, recognising their importance in supporting all learners, particularly those with challenging behaviour. Effective teaching, appropriate differentiation, mutual respect, and clear classroom management underpin these relationships.

All staff and pupils share responsibility for behaviour, with consistent expectations and responses applied across the school, allowing for age-appropriate differentiation. Positive partnerships with parents and carers are central to this approach.

Legislation and statutory requirements:

This policy is based on advice from the Department for Education (DfE) on:

- Behaviour in Schools
- Schools Suspensions and Permanent Exclusions
- Keeping Children Safe in Education
- Searching, Screening and Confiscation in Schools
- Equality Act 2010
- Use of Reasonable Force in Schools
- Supporting Pupils with Medical Conditions in Schools

It is also based on the Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice.

In addition, this policy is based on:

- DfE guidance stating that academies should publish their behaviour policy and anti-bullying strategy online. This policy complies with our funding agreement and articles of association.

Educate and Celebrate & No Outsiders

At South Hetton Primary School, we believe in creating a whole-school culture that is safe and inclusive. We are proud to be part of the Educate and Celebrate and No Outsiders programmes. Our school does not tolerate any form of discrimination, including acts against anyone on the basis of:

- Disability
- Gender
- Race
- Religion or belief
- Sex
- Sexual orientation
- Pregnancy and maternity

Challenging Discriminatory Behaviour

All discriminatory behaviour will be challenged, and incidents recorded on CPOMS. This includes homophobic, transphobic, racist, and misogynistic behaviour. Support will be provided to both the victim and the perpetrator, and issues will be addressed through direct teaching, for example within the PSHE curriculum.

Challenging Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment

The school has a zero-tolerance approach to sexual violence and sexual harassment; such behaviour is never acceptable. All incidents are taken seriously and will not be dismissed as banter or normal behaviour. Staff and governors receive regular training in line with KCSIE 2025 to ensure incidents are challenged and managed appropriately.

The RSE curriculum addresses discrimination, consent, respectful behaviour, and healthy relationships from an early age (see PSHE & RSE documentation). The school's approach to preventing and responding to bullying is outlined in its anti-bullying strategy.

Roles and Responsibilities

The Governing Body is responsible for monitoring the effectiveness of the behaviour policy and holding the Head Teacher to account for its implementation.

The Head Teacher is responsible for implementing and annually reviewing a clear and consistent behaviour policy in line with Trust guidance, and for reporting on this to the governors. They ensure that the school environment promotes positive behaviour, that poor behaviour is managed effectively, and that rewards and sanctions are applied consistently.

Classroom staff are expected to model high standards of behaviour in their interactions with pupils and colleagues. They are responsible for implementing the behaviour policy consistently, modelling positive behaviour, providing personalised support where needed, recording incidents on CPOMS, and challenging discriminatory behaviour. The senior leadership team will support staff in managing behaviour incidents.

Parents are expected to support the pupil code of conduct, inform the school of any changes that may affect behaviour, and raise concerns promptly with the class teacher.

All pupils and staff have the right to learn and work in a calm, supportive, and purposeful environment, and to attend school free from fear of bullying (see Anti-Bullying Policy). Behaviour expectations are shared with pupils at the start of each year through the Class Charter, and pupil representation via the Pupil Parliament promotes responsibility, citizenship, and positive role modelling.

Where reasonable sanctions are applied, parents are expected to support the school's actions and work in partnership to address any concerns.

Staff promote positive behaviour by speaking calmly and using positive language, maintaining consistent seating arrangements and structured groupings, and providing stimulating, well-ordered classrooms. Information about pupils, including SEND needs, is shared with support and supply staff to ensure consistent provision. Behaviour concerns and effective strategies are recorded and shared, and high expectations of behaviour are modelled and reinforced consistently across the school.

South Hetton Primary School Rules and Procedures:

Our Good to be Green rules were agreed with pupils and are:

1. I will follow instructions promptly and with respect.
2. I will treat both children and adults with kindness.
3. I will speak respectfully to all adults and other children.
4. I will respect the opinions and beliefs of others.
5. I will be honest, even when I make mistakes.
6. I will always be in the right place at the right time.

In addition to this, individual classes create their own charter at the beginning of each year where they can agree any other rules that they feel are important to their class.

Good to be Green

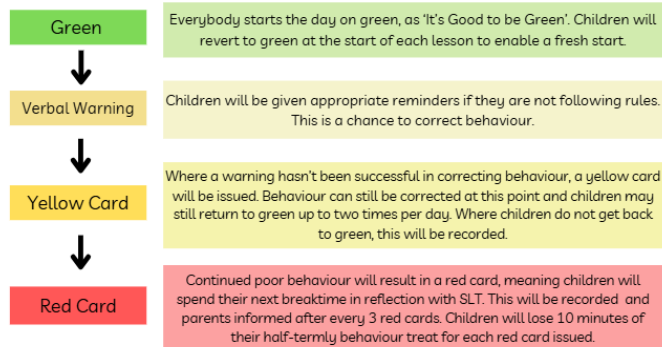

Clear, consistent, and positive expectations underpin the promotion of excellent behaviour. In the Early Years, behaviour is taught in a nurturing and developmentally appropriate way. Staff model positive behaviour and use stories, role play, and guided discussion to help children understand emotions, boundaries, and the impact of their actions. A visual classroom chart supports children in recognising when they are no longer in the calm (green) zone and encourages reflective conversations, preparing them, when developmentally ready, for the Good to be Green system in KS1. The Early Years system may also be used in Year 1, depending on the cohort.

In KS1 and KS2, all pupils begin each day on green, reinforcing that "it's good to be green." If expectations are not met, pupils receive a verbal reminder, followed by a yellow card, which can be redeemed through improved behaviour. Continued poor behaviour results in a red card. Behaviour expectations are shared and reinforced regularly through classroom practice, assemblies, pupil voice opportunities, and individual conversations.

Good to be Green Procedures

Low-level behaviour incidents

Serious behaviour incidents

Throughout the Good to be Green behaviour management process, staff will endeavour to support children in following the Good to be Green rules, and returning to green. Sometimes, behaviour may escalate to a higher level, and SLT can be called upon to support with this.

Rewards are a powerful tool for teachers and adults in school to encourage positive behaviour. Classroom management generally involves giving many rewards to children on a daily basis. These include:

Attendance

- Verbal praise
- 100% attendance trophy at the end of the year
- Half-termly attendance certificates for 100%, 98%+, and 96%+ attendance
- Weekly Dojo points for personal 100% attendance in that week
- Weekly attendance certificate given in assembly to the class with the highest attendance
- Initiatives and competitions

Behaviour

- Verbal praise
- Dojo points, certificates, or weekly class prize winner
- Weekly Good to be Green class certificate
- Termly school values awards
- Termly Head Teacher's Choice value awards
- End-of-year trophies (staff vote)
- Termly behaviour treat (children earn minutes for each week they are 'Green')
- Contact with parents via phone calls, Dojos, or postcards

Work

- Verbal praise
- Written remarks in books, including stickers and stamps
- Dojo points, certificates, or weekly class prize winner
- Star of the Week certificate (photos displayed)
- End-of-year trophies (staff vote)
- Raffle tickets for individual home reading (book cabinet)
- Contact with parents via phone calls, Dojo, or postcards

Pupils also have a say in the rewards they would like to work towards through the Pupil Parliament.

Sanctions

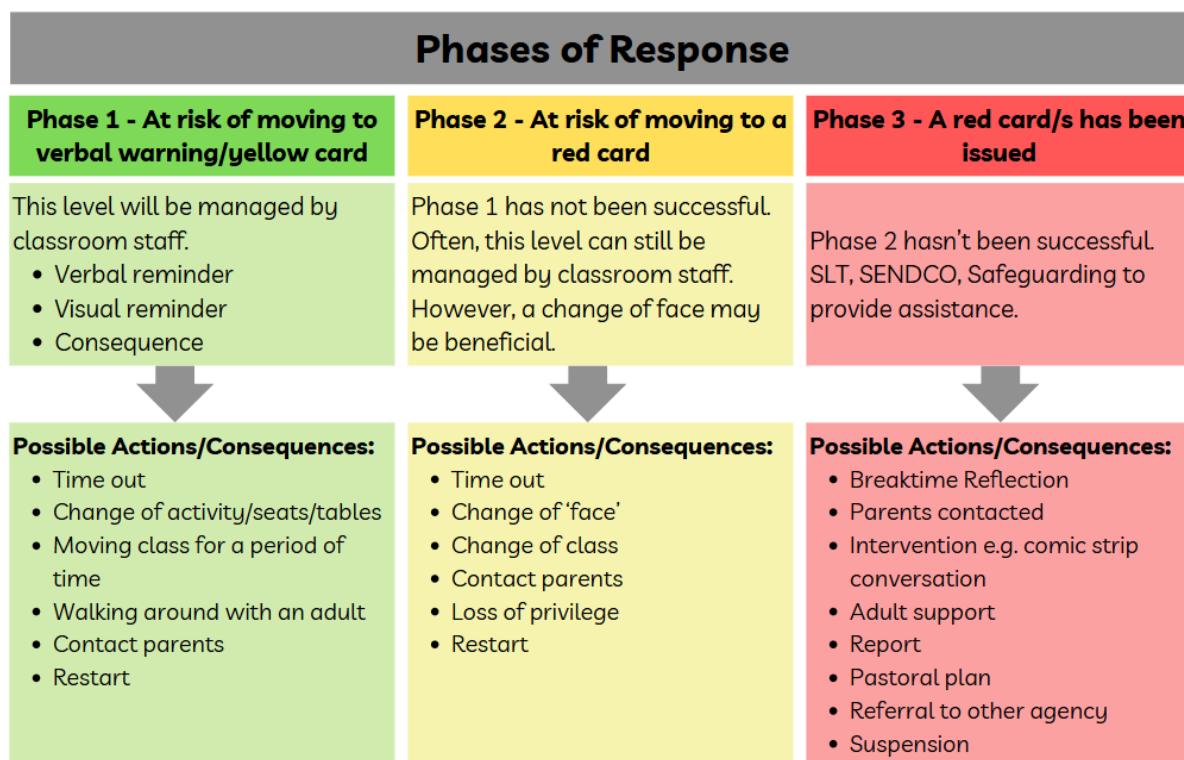

Sanctions can be particularly effective if they are seen by both the peer group and the perpetrator as matching the offence. An effective way to achieve this is to involve pupils in the discussion and structure of a classroom 'code of behaviour' via Classroom Charters and the school rules. In cases of challenging behaviour, there are often both victims and perpetrators. Teachers should speak with the suspected victim, the suspected perpetrator, and any witnesses, if appropriate. Where undesirable behaviour is confirmed, help and support will be provided to both the victim and the perpetrator.

The school supports victims by providing an immediate opportunity to discuss the incident with a trusted member of staff and by informing parents or carers so that support can continue at home. Ongoing emotional support is offered for as long as needed following the incident. Where appropriate, arrangements may be made for supervision to and from school, and a restorative apology may be facilitated with the agreement of the victim.

The school supports and disciplines perpetrators by discussing incidents to understand the reasons for the behaviour and to promote reflection and learning. This may take place privately or, where appropriate, within a group or restorative context, ensuring decisions are made carefully to protect relationships and self-esteem. Sanctions are designed to be fair, proportionate, and effective, encouraging positive behaviour change. They follow a stepped approach, are communicated to parents where appropriate, and provide opportunities for both staff and pupils to learn from the incident.

Consequences for Poor Behaviour:

If, despite warnings and the use of the Good to be Green system, poor behaviour persists, the child's name is moved to red, and an appropriate consequence is given. At the start of each teaching session, children's names are returned to green, and the procedure begins again. Staff may request support from the Senior Leadership Team (SLT) at any point if behaviours are persistent or deemed serious.

Phase 1

- Give a verbal reminder.
- Give a visual reminder (Movement on Good to be Green Chart - Warning/Yellow Card)

At break time or lunchtime, the following actions may be taken:

- Give a verbal reminder.
- Give child 'time out' by having to walk around with a person on duty, for a few minutes.
- Send child back into school to an agreed, supervised area.
- Withdrawal of privileges (e.g. time in the football area)

Phase 2

Any or all of these actions may be appropriate:

- Move to another seat for the remainder of the lesson.
- Move to another class for the remainder of the lesson.
- Make up work, at break time or lunch time, under direct supervision by the teacher/TA.
- Withdraw privileges (miss a club, a lunchtime play, a break time, loss of time on the football court)
- Seek assistance from additional staff member.

At any time:

If the poor behaviour is persistent, and/or causing safety concerns then it should be referred to the SLT.

Phase 3 (After referral to the Headteacher or member of the SLT)

Any or all of these actions may be appropriate:

- Opportunity for reflection
- Inform parents/carers.
- Call parents/carers into school.
- Initiate a Behaviour Report.
- Initiate a Pastoral Support Plan.
- Removal from the classroom for a fixed period.
- Suspended from school for a fixed period.
- Permanent exclusion

Whilst our Good to be Green rules are non-negotiable and apply to all children at school, we recognise that the context for a rule break can differ considerably in each case. Therefore, although a consequence is always given for breaking a Good to be Green rule, the nature of the consequence is arrived at after considering various factors.

The list of consequences/actions below provides a framework of steps which the school uses to respond to poor behaviour.

- Verbal reminder
- Use of Good to be Green chart
- Moving class seat
- Play ban
- Restart – Reflection time (younger children will complete this with an adult)
- Removal from classroom (usually to another class to ensure continued education)
- Withdraw privileges (usually lunchtime or after school clubs, or representing the school in sports, loss of time from playground rota e.g. football, sports leader zone)
- Begin a CPOMS account for that child
- Inform parents
- Behaviour Improvement Plan/Behaviour Contract
- Pastoral Support Plan
- Managed Move
- Fixed term suspension (please see Policy and Guidelines for Exclusion of Pupils document)
- Permanent exclusion (please see Policy and Guidelines for Exclusion of Pupils document)

Short-term strategies, such as verbal reminders, reflection time, changing seating, or brief time-out within the classroom, are not considered removal from the classroom. These strategies are part of everyday classroom management and help pupils regulate their behaviour while remaining engaged in learning.

Every child is always given the opportunity to 'get back on track' as quickly as possible. However, if this does not happen, it may become necessary to move through the behaviour steps more quickly.

Factors we consider before issuing a consequence

- Severity of the incident
- Historic/recent behaviour of the child
- Age of the child
- If the child has a special educational need
- Mitigating circumstances (e.g. – if the child was provoked)
- The response of the child following the incident of poor behaviour
- Anything else which the child wishes to tell us

These factors do not make poor behaviour acceptable; rather, they provide important context that must be considered when determining appropriate consequences.

Suspension & Permanent Exclusion

At South Hetton Primary School there is a shared commitment of all members of the school community to achieve two important aims:

1. The first is to ensure the safety and well-being of all members of the school community, and to maintain an appropriate education environment in which all can learn and succeed;
2. The second is to realise the aim of reducing the need to use suspension as a sanction.

The decision to suspend and/or to permanently exclude a pupil will be taken in the following circumstances:

- (a) In response to a serious breach of the school's Behaviour Policy
- (b) If allowing the pupil to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of other persons or the pupil him/herself in the school.

Please see our Trust Suspension & Permanent Exclusion Policy for further information.

Behaviour Chronologies (CPOMS)

Some pupils may find it difficult to consistently meet the school's behaviour expectations. In these cases, when red or yellow cards have been issued, a Behaviour Chronology is maintained on CPOMS to record incidents, consequences, and actions taken. This enables the school to monitor behaviour over time, identify patterns, support early intervention, promote collective staff responsibility, and provide accurate information for external agencies. Behaviour chronologies should remain factual and avoid including personal opinions.

Violent / Aggressive Behaviour

If a child behaves violently towards another pupil or adult and does not respond to de-escalation, Restrictive Physical Intervention (RPI) may be used by a member of staff. All school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force where necessary to prevent harm, but wherever possible, Team Teach-trained staff should take the lead in implementing RPI. Any intervention will be reasonable, proportionate, and for the minimum time necessary, with another adult present where possible. The child will be removed from the situation as quickly as possible, and a member of the Senior Leadership Team will be informed immediately. Parents will be contacted without delay, and a Positive Handling Plan or action plan will be developed in partnership with them to meet the child's needs. Where appropriate, external agencies, such as Social Services or an Educational Psychologist, may also be involved.

Use of reasonable force <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/use-of-reasonable-force-in-schools>

There are circumstances in which it is appropriate for school staff to use reasonable force to safeguard pupils. Reasonable force refers to physical contact used to control or restrain a pupil and must involve no more force than is necessary. Staff may use reasonable force to prevent a pupil from causing injury to themselves or others, committing an offence, damaging property, significantly disrupting learning, or to maintain good order and discipline.

Head Teachers and authorised staff may also use reasonable force when conducting searches for prohibited items, including weapons, alcohol, illegal drugs, stolen items, tobacco, fireworks, or pornographic images, where there is reasonable suspicion that the item may cause harm or be used to commit an offence. Force must not be used to search for other items banned under the school rules.

When considering the use of reasonable force, staff must take into account any known vulnerabilities of the pupil, including SEND, mental health needs, or medical conditions. De-escalation strategies must always be used wherever possible, but in limited circumstances, physical intervention may be necessary to ensure safety. Where possible, Team Teach-trained staff should take the lead in any intervention, with other adults supporting and observing.

All incidents involving physical intervention will be recorded in line with RPI procedures and Team Teach guidance, and parents will be informed. Where a pupil is identified as being at ongoing risk of requiring physical intervention, parents will be invited to meet with the school to discuss strategies, develop Positive Handling Plans, and address any concerns.

Further details can be found in our Restrictive Physical Intervention Policy.

Searching, screening and confiscation

School staff may confiscate, retain, or dispose of a pupil's property as part of a disciplinary sanction, in line with other disciplinary measures. The law protects staff from liability for loss or damage to confiscated items, provided they act lawfully and reasonably. Staff must ensure that any confiscation is proportionate and take into account any relevant individual circumstances.

Behaviour Reports

A Behaviour Report may be used when the Good to be Green system is not effective for a particular child. Clear, specific behaviour targets are agreed with the pupil, with rewards linked to progress and success. Pupils are actively involved in setting targets to promote responsibility, self-confidence, and self-awareness. Behaviour Reports are normally issued following a fixed-term suspension or when additional monitoring and support are required.

Behaviour and Emotional Difficulties

The school recognises that some pupils may experience behavioural difficulties linked to challenges within the family or delays in developing social skills. These pupils are supported appropriately to help them meet expected standards of behaviour. Emotional and behavioural difficulties may present in a range of ways, including withdrawal, difficulty concentrating, or disruptive or aggressive behaviour.

When such difficulties arise, staff seek to identify underlying causes, including health-related factors, and implement strategies to support pupils effectively. Staff are trained in the Zones of Regulation to help pupils recognise emotions and develop effective coping strategies.

Additional support, such as Listening Matters, may be offered to enable pupils to express concerns and agree on appropriate next steps. The school values negotiated approaches that promote responsibility, self-awareness, and positive behaviour. Where appropriate, rewards may be used to reinforce positive behaviour, and in cases where trust is limited, support may be formalised through a behaviour contract.

Close collaboration with parents and relevant internal and external agencies—including the Attendance Improvement Team, Educational Psychology Service, and Social Services—is essential to support sustained and effective behaviour improvement.

Health-Related Causes of Behaviour and Emotional Difficulties

Some emotional and behavioural difficulties may arise from diagnosed or undiagnosed medical or psychological conditions, such as hearing or visual impairments, epilepsy, asthma, depression, or eating disorders. Even when medical conditions are well managed, the condition itself—or the side effects of treatment—may impact a pupil's emotional wellbeing and behaviour. This can be particularly significant for pupils undergoing treatment for serious illnesses, including childhood cancer, where prolonged absence from mainstream education may occur.

In such cases, close collaboration between the school, parents, and relevant health professionals is essential to minimise potential difficulties. The school recognises the importance of ongoing staff training to ensure that pupils' medical and emotional needs are understood and appropriately supported.

Outside agencies/other professionals

The school benefits from a wide range of staff expertise, and many behavioural concerns can be effectively addressed without specialist intervention. However, in some cases, additional support from external agencies, such as the Educational Psychology Service or Pupil Inclusion Panel, may be required. Where appropriate, temporary placements in specialist or enhanced provision may be considered to ensure a pupil's needs are met effectively.

Differentiated Approach

For most pupils, the Behaviour Policy and stepped approach are effective. However, some pupils may require additional or alternative strategies to support positive behaviour. In these cases, differentiated approaches may be implemented, such as an adapted Good to be Green system with additional steps, access to safe spaces for time-out, or planned sensory breaks and shorter learning periods.

The school will continue to follow government guidance relating to the safety and wellbeing of pupils and staff and will review and update this behaviour policy accordingly.

Training

All new staff, including ECTs, receive training on the school's behaviour systems as part of their induction and are supported in managing behaviour effectively. Existing staff have access to refresher training, and patterns of behaviour are regularly reviewed and discussed collectively. When new or challenging behaviours arise, the school proactively seeks additional training and support—drawing on guidance from the SENDCo, Trust colleagues, and external agencies—to ensure staff are fully equipped to meet pupils' needs.
